

GRASSHOPPER can jump about the length of a meter. If humans could jump the way grasshoppers can, we could leap more than the length of a football field.

KANGAROOS move their hind legs together when they are on land. However, when they swim kangaroos kick each leg independently.

FROGS do not chew their food and swallow food with their eyes shut. They also absorb water through their skin so they don't need to drink.

JUMP